Belly Dancing

Dance students enjoyed their first Belly Dance Class this week with Maria DeAngelis Campanella.

Belly Dancing may be one of the earliest dance forms or expressions in movement; stemming from the Orient into India and the Middle East and at some point called “Oriental” dance. Belly dancing is done barefooted and focuses primarily on using the torso in isolated movements, which makes it so intriguing and challenging. Music used for belly dancing ranges from the sounds of the Orient, India, Morocco, Greece, Lebanon, Turkey, and Egypt, and more recently movements have adapted for Bollywood, hip hop, and more contemporary forms of dance.

2021 NYS Summer School for the Arts

inspire.create.explore.

Applications are currently being accepted for the 2021 New York State Summer School of the Arts (NYSSSA). The four-week summer program will be held fully online to ensure safety during the COVID-19 crisis. Tuition will be free for all students who qualify, fostering equity by allowing students who may not have been able to participate otherwise. Students will be able to experience intensive work and interaction with internationally acclaimed artists and performing arts companies. Students in grades 8-12 throughout New York State are encouraged to apply on the NYSSSA website. Auditions and portfolio reviews will take place online in January and February.

2021 NYS Summer School for the Arts

Write on, NY! is a statewide writing initiative that promotes student writing and the Lifelong Practices of Writers.

This initiative is a collaborative endeavor with New York State teachers, districts, and educational and professional organizations. Framed around the Lifelong Practices and featuring authentic exemplars of writing instruction, Write on, NY! provides instructional writing ideas, tools, and suggestions for teachers and educational leaders. As the Write on, NY! workgroup creates more resources, this website will expand. Thank you to the educators who have provided classroom examples for this initiative. Stay tuned for more resources in 2021!

New York State
EDUCATION DEPARTMENT
Knowledge > Skill > Opportunity

To promote this new resource, the Education Department is hosting a Write on, NY! Logo Design Contest. The contest is open to all New York State students in prekindergarten through grade 12 who love to design and love to write! The deadline for entries is February 28, 2021. Winning logo designs will be announced in March 2021.

Please contact the Office of Curriculum and Instruction at emscurric@nysed.gov if you have any questions.
