In the Classroom: A Residency Spotlight

LIHSA's artists-in-residence, Urban Bush Women (UBW) joined the Activism & Performance dance class. UBW teaching artist Danielle Criss is giving LIHSA students exceptional tools to explore their self-worth and their impact on the world.

Read more about this residency and see photos from the classroom in our blog.

In the Classroom: Students at Work

The Production and Managerial Arts students are designing and building toolboxes that will store their newly acquired equipment. The students are learning about assessing a need, developing a solution, and implementing their design, which they've modeled in cardboard. They are also learning how to use professional grade circular saws, jigsaws, miter saws and staple guns to build their toolboxes.

Opportunities for Students: Portfolio Review

Each October, the Heckscher Museum offers a Portfolio Review series for high school students preparing for the college admissions process. Gain insight and receive invaluable feedback from admission counselors.

Thank you to LIHSA students who attended the first session this week. Please make note the second session will be held October 27 from 6 - 9 pm. This is free and no registration required.

Mr. Cuvelier suggests encourages all fine arts students to attend, and if possible to arrive by 5:30 and wait in line to meet with one of the colleges earlier.

In the Building: 1+1 Day Returns!

1+1 Day was back! 40 students and parents from various districts across Long Island joined us for our largest 1+1 Day since before COVID. The hallways were buzzing with excitement as current LIHSA students were able to invite a friend to shadow them for our AM session on Thursday, October 13th.

Guest students participated in classes such as Musical Theatre Revue Process, Jazz Dance, Introduction to Animation, Recording Careers and Operations, Figure Drawing, Working with Actors/Filmmakers, and Audio Production for the Session Musician before attending an Open House overview and tours. Students finished the day with classes in all of our programs before heading back to their high school.

We were excited by the talent guest students shared and LIHSA faculty and staff received many compliments on the positive energy and friendliness of the students. We look forward to more Open House and 1+1 Day events this fall and winter and can't wait to begin the admissions process for 2023-2024!

Please make note of these Upcoming Open House and 1+1 Days:

Open House: Saturday, November 19, 11 - 2 pm

Open House: Saturday, January 28, 11 - 2 pm

Dance Open House: Saturday, January 28, 2 - 4 pm

1+1 Day: Thursday, February 16, 8-10:30, 12 -,2:30

Bring a Friend to Dance Night: Thursday, February 16, 6 - 7 pm
